After dancing at the Starlight Roof Ballroom a few months ago--I have had numerous requests for another party from the older people I work with (some wanted to try disco dancing next). But this time your're invited for movies at the Avenue Theatre: It with Clara Bow (the movie that made her famous as the "It" girl) and a 1932 short entitled Hollywood on Parade with clips about c. b. and a singalong organ concert.

I plan to lead a few workshops to explore past life recall, using a commonly used method of guided meditation. Dates will be arranged (probably on a Saturday morning) by calling me.

CULT ENCOUNTERS OF THE THIRD KIND (Future Event) Neil, Maggie & Mark 648-3742

We propose a journey into a legendary recess of the Mojave Desert known as Giant Rock. Since 1953, Giant Rock has been the headquarters of a religious organization known as the College of Universal Wisdom. This organization is one of the earliest, and certainly one of the most famous UFO-related religious organizations in the country. The area around Giant Rock has been rife with reported sightings, and contacts, for about thirty years. Observers include many people (even someone we know) who are not involved with the College of Universal Wisdom. Of course, the members of this church nearly all claim to have seen UFO's. Some even claim to have been aboard extraterrestrial craft.

The people at Giant Rock believe that the "space people", as they call the UFO inhabitants, are here to save us from an impending apocalypse. This apocalypse, they claim, is associated primarily with nuclear weapons, nuclear power plants, environmental pollution, and geophysical upheavals. They are very Christian in their approach, and in their minds the notion of the Second Coming and the coming of the space people are not too far apart.

For over twenty years, the people at Giant Rock have been working on a large domed structure called the Integratron. They claim that the space people gave them instructions on how to build this rather massive vice. The integratron was completed last year, and is now in operation. The people at Giant Rock believe it is a rejuvenation machine.

We propose the following general itinerary for a weekend this spring: We arrive at Giant Rock, by whatever means of transportation we work out, by Saturday at noon. We talk with the people there, and view the Integratron. (We have permission at this time to take a party of SFSC into Giant Rock). As evening comes on, we will journey a few miles away to an even more remote part of the desert, near what is claimed by locals to be an Indian religious site, where we will camp for the night. Sunday morning we will depart and head back north.

We obviously cannot promise anyone a siting, and we really can't promise that the people and facilities at Giant Rock will be worth the 500 mile journey for everyone that decides to go. However, we do guarantee that the desert will be a remarkable and powerful experience, particularly for those who have not encountered it at close hand before.

If this potential event interests you, please call Mark of Maggie at 648-3742. If there is enough interest, say at least half a dozen people, we will get together and plan the event. Also, we have some material on Giant Rock at the house, including tape recorded messages from supposed space people to the people at Giant Rock, which you are welcome to come over and check out.

PUBLIC NOTICE OF APOLOGY

For some time I've felt the need to exonerate myself from Peter Field's reproachful gaze. You see, I didn't realize how much I screwed him up on the Midnight Carnival. Peter, in full view of everyone else, I'm sorry. This apology has been a long time in coming, but its here.
